

Edited by John von Heyking & Thomas Heilke

THE PRIMACY OF PERSONS IN POLITICS

EMPIRICISM & POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

THE PRIMACY
OF PERSONS IN POLITICS

EMPIRICISM AND POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

Edited by
John von Heyking and Thomas Heilke

The Catholic University of America Press
Washington, D.C.

Contents

Introduction vii

John von Heyking and Thomas Heilke

PART ONE Persons in Politics: Empiricism and Political Philosophy

1. The True Form of Governments: The Constitutional Movements of Power 3

Tilo Schabert

PART TWO Persons, Creativity, and Modern Politics

2. Modern Boredom, the Human Element, and Creative Politics 25

David Tabachnick

3. A Political Ontology of Persons 49

Toivo Koivukoski

PART THREE Dimensions of Persons in Politics

4. Friendship as Precondition and Consequence of Creativity in Politics 79

John von Heyking

5. Can Politics Be Creative? Theory and Empirical Evidence 107

Thomas Heilke

6. On Schabert's "Creative Person in Politics" 139

Dan Avnon

vi Contents

PART FOUR Case Studies of Persons in Politics

7. Breaking Routine and Adjusting Anew: Elections, Persons,
Local Politics 171

Alexander Thumfart

8. Between Wisdom and Knowledge: The Politics of Creativity
in a Post-Communist World 207

András Láncki

PART FIVE The Methodology of Persons in Politics

9. The Primacy of Persons? Why Not? But a Disenchanted
One: A French Sociologist Visits Schabertpolis 239

Erik Neveu

Selected Bibliography of the Works of Tilo Schabert on Persons in Politics 281

Contributors 285

Index 289